

Dear Sir or Madame,

“We are drowning in information but starved for knowledge”... this quote from John Naisbitt, Megatrends 2000, explains particularly the problem of libraries. As information sources proliferate, new evaluation tools are needed to help researchers and students find relevant scholarly materials. Ex Libris has just launched such a tool – a new recommender service for e- journals. bX will provide library users with article-level recommendations based on collective usage data amassed from research communities around the world.

Due to an amazing feedback I'm pleased to invite you to spend another hour on 16.11. at 11:00am (GMT + 1) with Mr Timm-Martin Siewert (Senior Consultant for eResource Solutions ) who is going to present the bX solution which was developed together with Los Alamos National Laboratory. For more information please visit our homepage.

<http://www.exlibrisgroup.com/category/bXOverview>

How can you participate in the webinar?

To participate in the webinar all you need is to answer to this Email. After your registration you will receive the login details. All you will need is a networked computer and a phone.

Kind regards